'Today's Readers Become Tomorrow's Leaders'

A school mural at Wynn-Habersham Elementary School in Duff, TN was coordinated by the Campbell Culture Coalition in the spring of 2018. The theme, reflected in the mural title, was presented to the entire school of 152 students of K-8 classes. The students then drew pictures of what learning and education might mean to them. The lead artist, William Sarno, designed the mural based upon the student's drawings. The mural measures 10 ft wide by 7 ft high that was painted by eleven students from the school. The creation of the mural took place after intense classroom instruction by Mr. Sarno and was brought to life during school hours by these young artists.
